AT

South Salem Stone School

After the a short SAHS membership Meeting, there will be a one-hour dramatic reading of excerpts from the new book (They Put America In The Air; Behind the Scenes Building the Commercial Aircraft Industry with The Wright Brothers, Bill Boeing & Donald Douglas) by Russell Doré. The presentation includes slides of the individuals and aircraft involved.

Not another history of the aircraft industry , but rather a historical experience! Go behind the scenes in this fictional account and listen in on conversations as The Wright Brothers, Bill Boeing, Donald Douglas, and others build the US commercial aircraft industry. Hear them talk about the first-ever powered flight, the first commercially feasible passenger plane, problems in launching the 727, and the decision to build the most successful airliner.
